Building Community Partnerships and Evaluation Capacity

Since the onset of COVID-19, the need for mentoring organizations in Alberta to better understand their programs to improve their services was enhanced. The answer was to perform meaningful and actionable evaluations. However, mentoring organizations in Alberta indicated the need to build their evaluation capacity.

To address this need, AMP partnered with the Evaluation Capacity Network (ECN) in 2020 to provide evaluation capacity initiatives to mentoring organizations. ECN is a network of community partners, practitioners, researchers, and funders who serve the early childhood community through community-driven, culturally responsive, action oriented and equity-based evaluation capacity building opportunities, activities, and resources. ECN works alongside AMP and community partners to enhance the mentoring services in Alberta providing guidance and support in evaluations.

The ECN is dedicated to developing and delivering accessible learning opportunities to increase evaluation knowledge, skills, and motivation
